SMF ENERGY CORPORATION TO EXPAND LUBRICANTS OPERATION INTO SAN ANTONIO MARKET

Ft. Lauderdale, FL, November 15, 2007 – SMF ENERGY CORPORATION, formerly, STREICHER MOBILE FUELING, INC. (NASDAQ: FUEL) (the “Company”), a leading provider of petroleum product distribution services, transportation logistics and emergency response services to the trucking, construction, utility, energy, chemical, manufacturing, telecommunication and government service industries, announced today that it has reached an agreement with Chevron Products Company, a division of Chevron U.S.A. Inc., to amend its Texaco Lubrication Marketers Agreement and Primary Marketing Area to include the metropolitan San Antonio market as well as those counties abutting the I-10 corridor between San Antonio and Houston, Texas.

Richard E. Gathright, President and CEO commented, “San Antonio is the 8th largest city in the United States and the 2nd largest city in the State of Texas. It is a major crossroads with 3 major interstates (I-10, I-35 and I-37) meeting and funneling traffic to all the other major metropolitan areas of Texas including Dallas, Houston and El Paso. Of significance is the fact San Antonio is a major logistics hub for the international distribution of products through its foreign trade zone (FTZ) located at the old Kelly Air Force Base. Numerous large third party logistics providers, manufacturers and distributors have a presence in the zone; most with petroleum product supply requirements that we will be prepared to provide”

Gathright continued, “The ability to distribute the Texaco lubricant product line in San Antonio compliments our current fuel distribution business in that market and will allow us to expand into a larger facility while spreading the costs across a broader product line. This addition will also fuel the expansion of our sales efforts to potential industrial, commercial and retail operations located along the I-10 corridor between Houston and San Antonio while lowering our distribution costs through improved logistics management.

Gathright concluded, “The addition of San Antonio complements our other operations in Dallas, Houston, Beaumont, Lufkin, Longview, Waxahachie and Temple and truly positions us as the Texaco provider of choice in these markets”
